

16-Inch Ice in Hudson River Closes Stream To All Navigation

With ice said to be fully 16 inches in thickness all navigation on the Hudson river has been at a standstill since Wednesday, January 22, and there are no indications at the present time as to when navigation will be resumed. Last winter the river was kept open between Albany and New York all winter with the aid of the revenue cutters of the federal government.

This winter the Commander of the federal government was assigned to assist in keeping a track open to Albany, and did so until halted by the extremely heavy ice. In addition to the ice there is considerable snow that has fallen and which has lodged on top of the ice fields. With freezing weather here since the blizzard of Sunday, January 19, the snow has not disappeared.

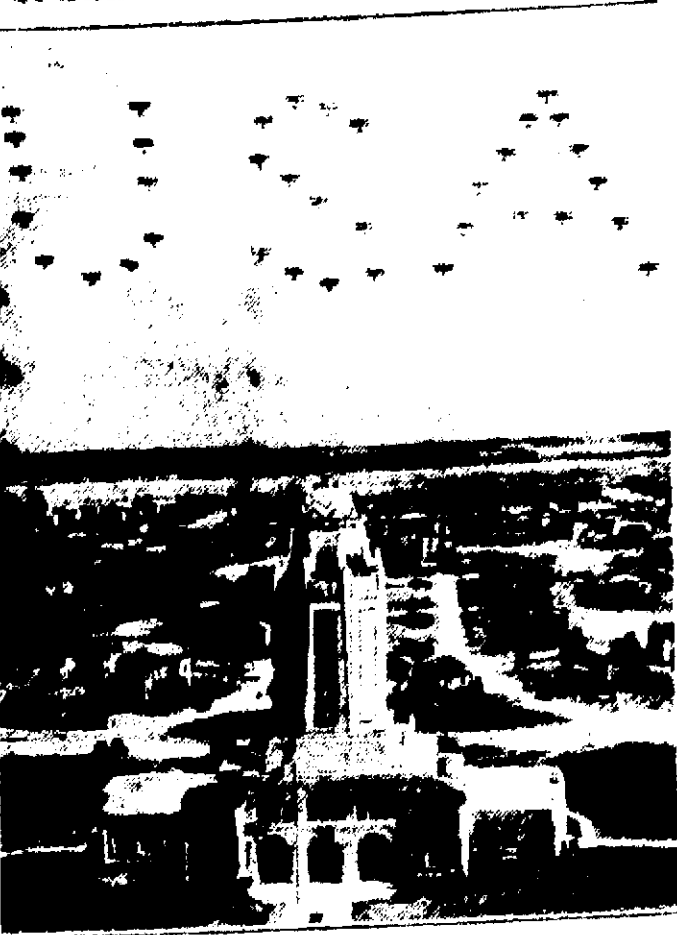

There is not a boat moving at the present time between Kingston and Albany and all ferry service has been suspended until weather conditions grow more favorable.

The Hudson River Steamboat Company operating the big steamers Ogdell and Poughkeepsie have suspended service since last week, and at the office here it was stated that no date had been fixed for the opening of navigation.

Twenty years ago at the time the first box of the season out of New York had reached Kingston, and river traffic had been resumed.

SPELLING 'U. S. A.' WITH PLANES

With the precision of a handwriting expert, these army planes in maneuvers at Randolph Field, Texas, went aloft and formed the letters "U. S. A." An idea of the size of the giant letters is indicated by the number of planes in the formation. (Associated Press Photo)

The previous modern child changed between playmates, school day friends, the children of friends of St. Valentine's. Indeed, some of St. Valentine's brightest 1936 inspirations are for the juvenile contingent. The lions are for the juvenile contingent. The lions are for the juvenile contingent. The lions are for the juvenile contingent.

LITTLE JACK HORNER

SAT IN A CORNER AFTER EATING A LARGE PIECE OF PIE HE STUCK IN HIS THUMB, AND PULLED OUT A TUMS.

(WHICH HE ALWAYS KEEPS IN HIS VEST POCKET FOR JUST SUCH EMERGENCIES)

WHY MILLIONS CARRY TUMS!

MILLIONS now know the smart thing to do is carry a roll of Tums, always. Heartburn, gas, and other symptoms of acid indigestion have a habit of occurring at unexpected times. You don't have to dread your stomach with harsh attacks which physicians have long warned may make the tendency toward acid indigestion worse. Tums, a real scientific advancement, contain no soda or other alkalies. Instead a wonderful antacid that simply neutralizes stomach acidity, the balance pointing out of the body. Pleasant to eat as candy. Only take a roll. Put a roll in your pocket now.

F. D. R. AT 54. LITTLE CHANGED BY PRESIDENCY

These three pictures show President Roosevelt, now entering his 54th year, at different stages of his political life. At left he is shown in 1920 when he ran for vice-president; in center he is shown in 1932 after the Chicago convention, and at right as he appears today. Charity balls and dinners all over the country mark the anniversary. (Associated Press Photo)

ASSAILS 'UNHAPPY WARRIOR' SMITH

FLAYS AL SMITH ON SPEECH

Rep. Clifton Woodrum of Virginia won an ovation from house Democrats in Washington for his attack on Alfred E. Smith's speech at the Liberty League dinner. Woodrum dismissed Smith's threat to "take a walk," if the convention upholds the New Deal, with: "he took a walk in Chicago." (Associated Press Photo)

"Makes driving a Winter Sport"

SAYS THE ENGINEER IN EVERY GALLON

Your car needs "Lubricated Starting"

THERE'S no sport in winter driving when you have to coddle and coax a slow-starting motor every time you stop for an hour or two. You can avoid that. The cure is Tydol, the lubricating gasoline.

Tydol contains a special lubricating ingredient. This oil in the gasoline loosens up cold-congealed valves and pistons. Smooths the way for Tydol's famous fast-starting qualities... And your motor responds with a sure, safe, split-second get-away. Buy Tydol today. Get lubricated starting... at no extra cost.

Avenues of Fashion
with EsquireWITH A SHINE ON YOUR SHOES
And a few Shining Examples of Smart Accessories

We modest Americans may find justifiable reason for a bit of boasting in the observation that the shoe-shining industry is an indigenous one. England may inspire us in the realms of fashion, but the public shoe-shining emporium is our very own idea. On the other side of the Atlantic, and particularly in England, a person known appropriately as "Boots" performs the boot-blackening ceremony both in household and hostelry. Upon retiring, one's shoes are left outside the bedroom door, and in the morning, there they are properly refurbished. A skeptical

American would be hesitant about leaving his shoes unattended outside the door, in the hope that they'd be there in the morning, and in the average household it's tough enough to find domestic help to shine up the silver, let alone some self-sacrificing individual who'd enter into the position of a "boots" with any degree of enthusiasm. All of which is intended to emphasize the importance of well-shined shoes. School now being out, we can divert your attention to a few new wand smart accessories. Some of these are merely ornamental; others are both ornamental and practical.

Smart holder-uppers are a crocodile.

Socks in hound's tooth check, a clocked 6 x 3 rib and a horizontal stripe.

Newest note in wear of jewelry is the animal figure scarf pin. Their design favors popular breeds of dogs, with fox masks and horses bringing in the hunting and horsey flavor. Craft links with bits on one side and borers on the other are companion to the jewelry.

YOUR INCOME TAX

YOUR INCOME TAX NO. 4.

WHO MUST FILE RETURNS.
Returns are required of every single person who for the year 1933 had a gross income of $5,000 or more, or a net income of $1,000 or more, and of every husband and wife living together who for the year 1933 had an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or more, or an aggregate net income of $1,000 or more. Widowers, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent are classified as single persons. The personal exemptions are $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families.

Husband and wife living together may make separate returns of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other, but must report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a taxable unit and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax. Husband and wife may elect each year whether to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may after the due date of the return file an amended return or returns on a different basis for that year.

Lehman Takes Charge Of Move to Centralize State's Relief System

Governor Arranges for Conference of Legislative Leaders and Relief Officials Next Wednesday Night at Executive Mansion.

NON-PARTISAN PLEA

Lehman's Desire is That Relief Administration Will Not be Subjected to Party Turbulence.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman assumed personal command today of the movement to centralize New York state's unemployment relief administration in a permanent authority within the state department of social welfare.

Asserting that "relief must continue xxx without politics or partisanship," the governor arranged for a conference of legislative leaders and relief officials next Wednesday night at the executive mansion for a thorough discussion of the problem. Both Democrats and Republicans have advocated transfer of the duties of the temporary emergency relief administration to a permanent authority within the state department of social welfare, as quickly as possible. But there are differences of opinion as to the extent of the powers to be given administrative heads.

In a letter to the legislative leaders of both Senate and Assembly, Governor Lehman emphasized that it is essential "we make certain that the transfer will be made in an orderly fashion and that the work of unemployment relief, as important as any function of government, will continue to be carried on efficiently."

Non Partisan Plea

He made a plea for non-partisan consideration of legislation carrying out the move.

"The people of the state have indeed been fortunate that there never have been any politics in the administration of unemployment relief of the state," the governor said. "I am certain that you share my very deep hope that the hand of politics will never be permitted to touch unemployment relief. Unemployment relief must continue to be carried on without politics or partisanship."

In addition to the legislative leaders, those invited to the conference are representatives of the TERA and the social welfare department and members of the Wardwell commission, which has been studying the general relief situation in the state for two years.

The Wardwell commission's report to the legislature several weeks ago, urging centralization of relief administration in authority directly responsible to the governor, provoked a storm of opposition from Republican legislators.

They adopted the attitude that "no governor, Republican or Democrat, should have control over relief."

The commission, appointed by Governor Lehman in 1934, proposed a gradual transfer of all some relief from the TERA to the welfare department, starting next July 1 and to be consummated by January 1, 1937.

Course is Conjectured.

Just what plan the governor, legislative leaders and relief officials will finally agree upon is a matter of conjecture. In view of the Republican opposition, it is not likely the proposal will make the commissioner of public welfare responsible to the governor.

At present, the commissioner is selected by the board of social welfare, which itself is appointed by the governor. The commissioner is responsible to the board.

There also has been a difference of opinion in the legislature regarding the preliminaries to placing relief on a permanent basis.

The governor, in his annual message, recommended that the details be worked out by a legislative commission of eight members, composed of the legislative leaders and four persons to be appointed by him.

The Republicans, on the other hand, favored an investigation by a commission consisting of the members of the public welfare committee of both houses and representatives of the TERA. Their proposed inquiry would be confined chiefly to the causes of unemployment, rather than administration of relief.

Several weeks ago, Republican leaders asked the governor to send a special message to the legislature authorizing an appropriation of $25,000 to carry out their proposed inquiry. This, the governor said, is prohibited by the state constitution, which holds that no appropriation can be recommended until approval of the budget for the coming fiscal year.

As a result, the Republicans dropped the appropriation clause from the bill, reintroduced the measure in the legislature and announced they would hold a public hearing on it to obtain a "looksee" into the unemployment problem. Thus far they have not announced the date.

Spilled Gasoline Caused Hazard

Superintendent David Conway and members of the street department worked until 2 o'clock Wednesday morning washing the city sewers in the German street section of the city. About 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon one of the trucks of William Singer while driving up Ravine street with a load of gasoline lost one of the large containers which slid off the truck, spilling approximately 100 gallons of gasoline into the sewer, forming a dangerous hazard. Residents in the vicinity perceived the odor of gas and thinking there was a break in the gas main notified the gas company who could find no leak. Superintendent Conway was called shortly after 8 o'clock that night, and was later informed of the gasoline being spilled into the sewer. To avoid the sewers blowing up it was necessary to remove the manholes from the street and to flush out all of the sewers. It was about 2 o'clock the next morning when the men completed the work and the danger was past. Superintendent Conway said today that accidents of this kind should be reported promptly to the street department so that conditions could be remedied without danger to residents or property from an explosion.

TALKS TO PARENTS

Earliest Influences

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

To offset the now pretty well exploded theory of pre-natal influences, there has arisen another which gives food for thought.

Doctors and psychiatrists are more and more of the opinion that children are affected even in the cradle by what goes on around them.

Conscious memory probably does not begin before four with most children. Sometimes a child will recall isolated events earlier.

Long before conscious memory begins, however, a child is capable of receiving impressions the traces of which will linger on in some locked cupboard of his mind and may emerge in later years to condition his whole life. The earliest baby in arms will react to noise and the danger of falling. Who can be sure that some of the unaccountable fear of high places is not due to a forgotten episode of these early days?

How soon other impressions impinge on the baby is so uncertain and depends so much on circumstances and the individual child that parents cannot begin too early to watch their words and actions in the presence of these inarticulate little creatures. Harsh words, quarrels, tears—to all these a child reacts when he is still far too young to grasp their meaning, and if he reacts to them it means that somewhere an impression—and an unpleasant one—is being stored away in his memory.

Later on, before he can express himself in words, he is probably able to understand much of what is said in his presence, and these remarks, often only half-comprehended, are also engraved on his memory. People could watch themselves closely if they knew there was a dictaphone in the room. The child may be acting as one, but what his records will be like, no one knows.

Annual Report of Napanoch Prison

Albany, Jan. 30 (Special).—"It would appear that the school is performing a very important work in fitting the inmate for parole," declares the annual report on the Napanoch Institution for Male Inmates. Delinquents approved today by the state Commission of Correction.

It was pointed out that about 40 per cent of the 1,000 inmates are foreign born and there is a large percentage of southern negroes besides. The average mental age is 8 1/2 years, with chronological ages running from 17 to 65.

Prisoners are not permitted to keep their own razor blades but shave under close supervision. They are privileged to write home as often as they like but the state will pay their postage only every two weeks. All able-bodied inmates do some work. Last year their products, made within prison walls, yielded over $30,000. Manufacture of aluminum ware, sheet metal, iron chairs, chains, towelings, brooms, baskets, and cabinet work are some of the products turned out.

Working six hours a day, the resulting products are said to be exceptionally high in quality.

"It would seem," states the report, that the inmates of this institution are equally entitled to be paid for their services as are the inmates of state prisons, and it is recommended that the administrative officials be urged to proceed with the steps necessary to put a wage scale in operation."

Several recommendations were made to improve the conditions of the men's health, including an increase of the medical staff and better ventilation facilities in the dining rooms.

Stony Hollow Card Party

There will be a benefit card party for St. John's Church, Stony Hollow, at Knights of Columbus Hall, Broadway and Andrew street, Monday night, February 10, starting at 8:15 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to patronize the party by the committees who are working hard to make it a success.

The production of machinery in Germany jumped 210 per cent between January, 1933, and January, 1935.

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leachard, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, eases the pressure of the congested blood and helps to heal and restore the affected parts. HEM-ROID has such a fine record of success that McBrine Drug Stores and all druggists carry a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must remove your pile agony or money back—Adv.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Jan. 30 (AP).—The stock market ran into sizeable profit taking today but, on the whole, was not particularly disturbed.

Commodities were of little help to stocks. Grains and cotton were slightly mixed. Bonds were rather steady. The dollar was a bit firmer in terms of leading foreign exchanges.

A number of new highs for the past several years were recorded in the share division before realizing set in. Radio Preferred "B" was a stellar performer with a gain of about 5 points. A. O. Smith was 3 higher. Douglas fell back and then recovered for an advance of 2.

Improvement was shown by Electric Boat, American Steel Foundries, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Inland Steel, N. Y. Central, Warner Bros., General Asphalt and most of the utilities and oils. Case and T. S. Smelting dropped 2 each. The motors were backward, and Schenley, Hiram Walker, American Radiator, American Can and Continental Can lost a point or so each.

Five Year Old Boy Wanders from Home

Early this morning, while the thermometer was still registering below zero, an automobile driver along the boulevard discovered a five-year-old boy in a snowdrift at the top of DeWitt's hill, near Bloomington. The youngster couldn't walk and was in a fair way to be frozen to death.

Sheriff Abram Molyneux was notified and took charge of the boy, who had been taken to the Gulf gas station not far away and given first aid. Returning with him to Kingston, the sheriff met a woman who was walking along the road, crying, and discovered that she was Mrs. Ivan DeWitt, mother of the boy. She said that the pump at their home had frozen and while she was trying to thaw it, the little boy walked away. The boy was returned to his home, near the Walkill Valley Railroad, apparently none the worse for his experience.

County Hairdressers Name Their Officers

At the recent annual meeting of the Ulster County Hairdressers Association, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Miss Ann Ruckert, president; Mrs. Blanche Hustis, vice president; Mrs. George D. Logan, secretary; Miss Helen Wright, Highland, treasurer; Miss Helen Walsh and Miss Peggy Gaster, trustees; Mrs. George D. Logan, delegate to convention; Mrs. Blanche Hustis, alternate.

Arrangements were made for a Valentine party to be held Saturday night, February 3, at the Golden Rule Inn, for members and friends. Reservations will be open up to February 1. Private tables may be arranged by calling members of the committee in advance.

CONDITION OF NEGRO WOMAN WAS RETURNED BY NEGROES

The condition of Anna Sappara, a negro, who was seriously burned when her clothing caught fire at her home in West Rocks Tuesday morning, was reported as still serious at the Kingston Hospital. The condition of Anna Sappara, who was burned in extinguishing the fire, was reported as fair.

Accepts a Call

Brady Van Euten

Miss Olive Van Euten and J. Francis Brady were united in marriage Sunday, January 26, at St. Mary's rectory. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. John Henken. A wide circle of friends will extend congratulations.

Lowell Club

The Lowell Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Howe. Before taking up the program for the afternoon the members of the club voiced their deep and warm appreciation of the splendid task of guiding the destiny of the Federation of Women's Clubs breakfast held last Saturday, as accomplished so successfully by the Federation president, Mrs. Fred P. Luther. There were two excellent papers given. Mrs. Steiner had the first paper for the afternoon on "The War with Japan (1924-25); and Consequent Aggregations by European Powers." It was as valuable as interesting. The other paper on "Li Hung Chang" as given by Mrs. Conklin was full of historic and very human interest. Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Van Wagenen.

THE JOYNER

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.
A reception to worthy matron, Mrs. Edmund Finley, and worthy patron, Kenneth DuBois, of Highland, was held at the home of Mrs. Finley on Tuesday evening. The officers took part in a Canoe of Service agree in honor of the two leaders. The matron was presented with a large bouquet from the officers and the patron with a boutonniere of flowers. Mrs. Finley was given a gift from Judea White Shrine, a fitted over night bag from her husband and many gifts from friends. Mrs. Bertram Cottine, the secretary, was given a gift as was Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw and Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb. Mr. DuBois also received gifts. Mrs. Harry B. Cotant sang the welcome song to the matron and rendered other songs. A reading was given by Mrs. Gertrude Elliott. Two committees were combined and served the refreshments.

Engravers' Dilemma.

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP).—Government engravers today had a problem—what president's picture should be printed on the 35,000,000 bonus bonds? A treasury official intimated it would not be President Roosevelt's. It is believed it will not be a portrait of President Harding, Coolidge or Hoover. They, like Mr. Roosevelt, vetoed bonus legislation. Officials of the bureau of engraving and printing contended themselves with saying the portrait would be selected from many engravings of chief executives now "in stock."

Lester Stoecken to Wed.

Los Angeles, Jan. 30 (AP).—The girl who squeaked Lester Stoecken's ambition to quit the tennis courts for the boxing ring will become his wife. February 4. She is Miss Ruth Moody, 18-year-old beauty contest winner and film actress. Stoecken, twice national tennis doubles champion, now is playing with a professional troupe.

Note From Italy.

Cairo, Jan. 30 (AP).—The Egyptian government received a note from Italy today, protesting against application by Egypt of League of Nations sanctions for Italy's war in Ethiopia. The Italian note reserved a right to demand indemnity for material damage suffered by Italian subjects under the imposition of sanctions.

Niagara Almost Dry.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP).—Another sharp dip in temperature today enabled Jack Frost to maintain a strangle hold on the Niagara gorge. An ice jam in the upper river continued to keep the American contract almost dry and a shoveling operation in the lower river moved toward Lake Ontario at a snail's pace with no signs of breaking up.

Bert Knauth Gives Fossils Collection to Harvard Museum

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 29.—The Harvard Botanical Museum announced today acquisition of thousands of fossil specimens of land plants more than 200 millions years old.

B. A. Knauth of Kingston, N. Y., presented the museum with 600 specimens from New York state dating about 300 million years ago.

Mr. Knauth, who is a son of Mrs. Elsie Knauth of 322 Albany avenue, is an alumnus of Harvard, Class of 1928, and during his college course majored in paleontology. Since leaving college he has maintained his interest in the work and has collected many fine specimens of fossil plant life, a portion of which are represented in the collection presented to the Harvard Botanical Museum.

Just where he secured the specimens is a little secret of his own, but he said this morning that they were found within seven miles of Kingston and in a rather restricted area.

Mr. Knauth says his specimens have aroused much interest on the part of scientists and that they represent the earliest known plants in the United States, if not in the world, antedating the specimens found in the Gila section.

The specimens are found in what is known as the Catskill mountain delta, are fresh water plants and were imbedded in strata of the early Devonian period.

The Devonian period, sometimes called the age of fishes, is marked by the fact that plant life for the first time is well represented among the fossils, especially with reference to ferns, lycopsids and horsetails and some gymnosperms.
